A WAGNER CONCERT.

As Usual the German Master's Music Pleased the Multitude.

CHILDREN ADMITTED

Saturday is Always the People's Day at the Great Exposition.

BANDMASTER INNES IS VERY POPULAR

"Citizens' Day," "Society Day," "Fashionable Day"-so Friday of each week has come to be designated in connection with the Exposition, and the appellation is wellmerited, for upon that day the people of the two cities turn out in force to attend the popular exhibition, the millionaire touching elbows with the mechanic and the belle of the season with the belle of the kitchen.

Yesterday was no exception to the rule and the attendance was not only large, but brilliant. The favoring skies had much to do with this condition of things doubtless, but pride in the local show had equally much, and above all was the desire to hear the excellent music discoursed by Band-master Innes and his corps of excellent musicians. The programme for the alternoon was a most enjoyable one, but the Wagner programme last night was a master stroke and the music was equal to a superior con-

To-day will be another People's Day, and the largest attendance of the season is expected. A special musical programme has been arranged for the day and evening, as

The following splendid programme has been prepared by Conductor Innes: PART I-2 O'CLOCK.

Overture, "Pygnation and Galatea". Suppe Solo for cornet, "Concert Walts" (new). King Mr. Thomas Clark.
 Popular selection, "Plantation Echoes"

Yesterday the big buildings were overrun with 1,200 school children whose frolics and joyous laughs thawed the colder hearts of the older people.

CHURCH ORGANS, REED ORGANS, PIANOS.

Some magnificent instruments have been added to this already superb display. Conspicuous among them is the Clough and Warren church organ, it having Soribner's qualifying tubes and reeds: Clough and Warren being the only manufacturers who use them. This one has two manuals, the "stops" running through all the registers; two octaves of pedal bass notes, the reeds of which are contained in the peculiar boy seat for the organist; it has all the attachments necessary to a complete organ, and is pumped by an electric motor, richly carved massive case. Altogether an instrument of great value either for a church or large music room, Price with motor $750. Other Clough and Warren organs have been added; also a Story & Clark (a reed organ), which, in its elegant case of bird's eve maple, and nickel stops, has been much admired; several more of S. Hamilton, Nos. 91 and 93 Fifth Avenue. stops, has been much admired; several more of those meomparable Estey's, so long and so Javorably known that long criticism is needless. Decker Bros. have made a new departure as to cases: a new piano, is of antique oak, with massively hand-carved pedestal feet, ends, panels, music rack, indeed, everywhere that such elaborate workmanship would be permisssuch elaborate workmanship would be permissable or appropriate. The case is truly fitting for this lovely Cabinet Grand, which is new style No. 28. A Parior Grand, Decker Bros., has just been placed in one corner, and its delicious tone and faultless action cannot fail to entrance every genuine lover of music. Then there is a new No. 16, upright, of the same make, going to swell the list, while still others are to Iollow.

As an evidence of the perfection of the pianos in which Hamilton deals, he has sold nine from the Exposition stand, in addition to his business at the salesrooms, 21 and 33 Fifth avenue. This speaks well for Hamilton's goods, Hamilton's stand and the Exposition. Among the attractions at Hamilton's stand is the great Italian automatic piano which thousands flock to hear, for its novelty and brilliant tone. This piano was kindly loaned for an Exposition attraction by Mr. William McKay, the celebrated caterer of McKeesport, Pa. Hamilton has a great exhibit surely of worthy samples drawn from his immense stock at 91 and 93 Fifth avenue.

TESTING MACHINES.

Richle Brothers, Philadelphia.

Richle Brothers, Philadelphia.

Richle Brothers stand at the head of testing machine makers and have maintained their position ever since they introduced the manufacturing of these machines as a regular branch of industry in this country.

They have a handsome and interesting exhibit in Machinery Hall of a very extended variety, but it will only give a faint idea of the various testing machines which this firm makes.

makes.

Their success has been remarkable, and the "Riehle Testing Machine" has been adopted by the United States Government as the standard, and is used in most of the leading railroads and institutions of learning in the country.

Special care is taken in the construction of the "Riehle Testing Machine," and only the best material is worked up by skillful workmen into machines that are models of grace and beauty.

beauty.

In connection with the machines they use their "Extensometer" for determining elastic limit and modulus of elasticity. It is mechanical, without any electrical attachment, is very quickly attached and detached.

Conveniences for Housekeeping.

Conveniences for Housekeeping.

If housekeeping is not easy to the ladies of Pittsburg the trouble must lie with themselves, is the unanimous verdict of those who have "taken in" the fine exhibit of this firm on the main floor. Not only are the large matters represented in full, but every little conceit and device in the way of a work simplifier is hanging here, there and everywhere about this enticing display. Pasteur filters, New Era washing machines, natural gas grates and laundry stoves, coal vases, hot water urns, Grand Rapids carpet sweepers, nattent fryers for croquettes, adjustant fryers for croquettes, adjustant fryers for croquettes, adjustant ple ple plates, "Sensible" sad-irons, glass rolling pins, egg beaters that make that usually tedious work a pastime, coffee mills and coffee pots that produce a delicious beverage in one minute of time, broilers, griddle greasers, cuspudores, dish pans and every sort of pans, flour and bread tins, clothes wringers, water coolers, imperial stone hollow ware that cooks food without turning it black, cutlery for table, kitchen and personal use, trays, tube and pails of that serviceable indurated fiber ware, steel skillets that are warranted not to break even if they should have a fall and the desirable Em. skillets that are warranted not to break even if they should have a fall, and the desirable Em-pire roaster and baker, the best contrivance for the purpose ever invented, and on and on until a column would not hold the mere names of the articles, all useful, shown at this space.

MELLOR & HOENE'S GREAT EXHIBIT.

Pianos and Organs.

When you speak of the splendid instruments carried by this firm, everybody knows what you are talking about, for the thousands of pianes and organs which have been placed by Mellor & Hoene in homes, churches and lodges have given such unqualified satisfaction, that it is an open secret that they are the people to deal with if you want the very best the market affords. Take for instance the Hardman pianes that have walked right into public layor: they are wonderful instruments, possessing phenomenal durability, great power and fullness of tone, and from their peculiar construction a perfect action that is perforce lasting. This last is effected through having the "metal key frame support;" the keys and action are clamped to this iron frame, and as climate does not affect it, it always remains level, and the "key sticking," so prevalent with the warped wooden supports, is avoided. Another great advantage in the Hardman pianes is the patent "harp stop attachment," to be used at will;

this reduces the striking distance or blow of the hammer, so that the volume of tone is cut off, and any amount of exercises may be prac-ticed without annoyance to neighbors, without putting the instrument out of tune, and with little or no wear upon the "pelts."

Then there are the Krakauer Bros. pianos, noted for their beautiful singing tone, elegant cases, great durability, and exquisite touch; surely recommendations to make any piano popular.

Organ firms are represented by samples of Palace, Chicago Cottage and Chase. The self-playing Æolian organ has a fine octave key-board, the usual stop action, and the automatic or self-playing action. By a careful and judious arrangement of the perforated papers, which are the equivalents of the barrels in music boxes, a large and varied repertoire of classical or popular music may be played at will. All the instruments mentioned in this article and others are carried in large stock at the "Temple of Music," No. 77 Fifth avenue.

Trymby, Hant & Co., Philadelphia.

The success of this exhibit has been so marked that it demonstrates to a nicety that Pittsburgers appreciate the elegant goods shown in the display of this representative firm of the Quaker City. In the home stores are to be seen exquisite bits of beauty, result of careful, thoughtful study of what is practical, beautiful and artistic in the models of both this and the Old World parior, drawing room, dining room, chamber and library suites and hall fourniture in the styles, wood, finish and price you want. Fancy and ornamental furniture in those delicious thiugs, escritoires, pedestals, cabinets, etc., in the Vernis Martin decorations, and Mexican onyx and brass, and Mexican onyx and brass, and Mexican onyx and should be enjoyed by all visitors to that city. Trymby, Hunt & Co. furnish designs, plans and estimates for complete furnishing of a whole house or single apartment. Call at the exhibit in main building and consult their representative. Mr. J. E. Dow will give all information in regard to the business, which is located at Nos. 1219-1221 Market st., Philadelphia. Trymby, Hunt & Co., Philadelphia.

A DAINTY EXPOSITION.

Hardy & Hayes, No. 529 Smithfield Street Hardy & Hayes, No. 5:29 Smithfield Street.

This energetic young firm of jewelers, art dealers and silversmiths, again come to the front with their usual fall exposition of "dainty things" for wedding gifts. Visitors to the great Pittsburg Exposition who fail to visit this store will have missed one of the sights of the city. These pushing young men had a direct buyer at the Paris Exposition, besides having large orders with "French Commissionaires" to pick up the freshest novelties for them. The result of all this enterprise is a display in their art room, in the rear of their store, on the ground floor (no stairs to climb), far surpassing any previous effort. Remember the store is in their new building, 529 Smithfield st.

Musical. Prof. W. C. Doyle's pupils of the Hiland Piano School, East End, will give a musical at Echols, McMurray & Co.'s music stand Satur-day evening at 8 P. M.

THE BLOCK SIGNAL.

The New York Central Will Adopt It or Its Entire Line.

PEPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.1 NEW YORK, October 11 .- President Depew confirms the report that the New York Central Railroad Company is considering the advisability of adopting the block system over the entire line from New York to Buffalo. General Superintendent Toucey and Assistant Superintendent Voorhees, Mr. Depew said, are examining the system in use on other roads and getting the opinions as to their operative value.

Mr. Depew thought that the system in use on the Central in the tunnel and as far as Woodlawn and Spuyten Duyvil was the best in this country, as far as it went; but they had not decided to extend this. They want the best that can be devised, he re-marked, and the probability is they will combine the ideas of various signaling sys-

The blocking in the Fourth avenue tunnel is done from signal towers, of which there are a dozen or more up to Spuyten Duyvil and Woodlawn. Semaphore arms drop from the bridges over the tunnel the instant a train passes, and remain down until the train is out of the block. The work is done by levers and wires. The Pennsylvania road is to have the best system of signaling, but Mr. Depew said they were thinking seri-ously of changing for an automatic system that is now being tried west of Pittsburg. But automatic devices, President Depew said, he had not a great deal of confi-dence in.

A BANKRUPT CIRCUS.

The Manager Disappears, Owing Performers and Others from $400 to $10 Aplece. SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH. MIDDLETOWN, N. Y., October 11. -

Frank A. Robbins' circus, menagerie and Wild West show started out on a season's tour from Washington, N. J., in April last. The show had on its salary list about 25 performers and about 75 canyas men, musicians, driv-ers, etc. The outfit included about 100 horses, two elephants and other wild animals and needed appliances. The circus went West as far as Leadville and then turned and worked its way back to this State, with the intention of going into winter quarters in this city.
On Friday, while the show was at Deposit, Manager Robbins unexpectedly disappeared. On Sunday the show came on and took possession of the winter quarters here. When the show got here it is alleged that there was due to the performers from $50 to $400 apiece and to the canvasmen and ordinary helpers from $10 to $50 apiece. At this juncture J. A. Holmes, a New York museum manager, appeared here and took possession of all the paraphernalia of the show as the owner of the property, except the elephants and other wild animals, which are conceded to belong to Adam Fore-

TWO VERY CUTE CONVICTS.

They Scaled the Prison Wall and Poisoned the Dog in Pursuit. LOUISVILLE, October 11 .- Henry Poin dexter and Marion McBride, convicts in the Eddyville penitentiary, escaped last evening by scaling the outside prison wall. Their absence was soon discovered and pursuit was commenced with trained bloodhounds. The dogs took the trail at once and it was thought the convicts would be overhauled, but soon one of the best dogs was found dying.

was found dying.

Poison had evidently been dropped by the convicts and the dog picked it up. The animal's death checked pursuit for some time and it is now thought the convicts will escape for good. Both were sent up in 1886, Poindexter being given 16 years for burglary and McBride six years for horse stealing.
